A BRIEF HISTORY OF KENO

This game was first introduced in China by Cheung Leung over 2,100 years ago. This new form of Keno was created to raise funds for his province's failing army (with great success, we might add). The game was also used to help fund the building of the "Great Wall." From a ticket containing 120 characters, each player made 10 selections, which were made with an ink brush. This created the appearance of the tickets having "spots." The 10-character ticket became known as the 10-spot ticket. If five or more of a player's selections matched those in the random drawing, the player won a specified sum.

When thousands of Chinese migrated to the "Old West" in the mid-1800s to work in the mines and on the railroad, the game quickly spread. This early version known as the "Chinese Lottery", used only 80 symbols, much to the player's advantage. As the game became popular with non-Chinese, the somewhat confusing Chinese characters were replaced with the Arabic numerals 1 through 80. The game evolved to 1 through 15 spot tickets, and later to Way tickets to become the game we know and enjoy today.

GIANT JACKPOT

How the Giant Jackpot Works:

Take your ticket to the counter to be registered for the following game. Wagers that qualify for the jackpot will advance the meters until the jackpot is won or reaches the maximum limit of $200,000. Combine this with the regular payout of $50,000 for a total of up to:

$250,000

Any wager, whether in a straight ticket or as one of multiple wagers on a way ticket, on 8 or more numbers that is played for the minimum amount per way shown in the “pay tables” that are marked with an “*” qualifies for our Giant Jackpot award. The regular pay table, the $2.00 Top & Bottom Special, and the 20 Spot Special are the only pay tables that qualify for the Giant Jackpot.

Example: If you place a wager on a group of 8 numbers at the regular rate for $2.00 and all 8 numbers are drawn, you win the aggregate limit of $50,000. If you place a wager on a group of 8 numbers at the regular rate for $5.00, whether in a straight ticket or as one of multiple wagers on a way ticket, and all 8 numbers are drawn, you win $50,000 plus the current amount of our Giant Jackpot.

WAY TICKETS

Way tickets are a method of playing several different Keno tickets on a single piece of paper. To fill out a way ticket simply circle different groups of numbers, and then combine these groups to make up different tickets.

Here are a few examples. If you need assistance, ask any of our personnel.

The price of the way ticket must coincide with the price of the total ways played.
